

Canadian Baseball League (CBL)
757 Hastings Street West
Vancouver, BC V6C 1A1

May 7th, 2003

To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I provide this letter of reference for Commodity Link Enterprises Ltd., under the leadership of Mr. Sonit Kalia and his business partner Mr. Derek Rathubun.

In 2003, the Canadian Baseball League awarded its first-ever national baseball uniform contract to Commodity Link Enterprises Ltd., following a competitive tender process that included major international brands such as Reebok and Wilson. Commodity Link stood out for their innovative pitch: introducing the first-ever spandex-lycra fabric blend for professional baseball uniforms in Canada. This unique fabric, sourced exclusively from Japan through Mr. Kalia's direct sourcing rights, offered exceptional comfort, sweat-wicking technology, and enhanced player performance.

The Canadian Baseball League, consisting of eight professional teams across the country, was in its inaugural season at the time. Meeting the challenge of outfitting every player, coach, and team staff member within tight deadlines required impeccable project management and operational precision. Commodity Link Enterprises not only met but exceeded these expectations—delivering all uniforms on time and to exacting quality standards.

Players and coaches alike reported significant improvements in comfort and performance, with the new fabric allowing better range of motion and moisture control during both practice and high-pressure game situations. This innovation marked a milestone in Canadian professional sports, setting a new standard for athletic apparel in the league.

Mr. Kalia's leadership, sourcing expertise, and commitment to delivering exceptional value were critical to the project's success. I have no hesitation in recommending Commodity Link Enterprises Ltd. for any high-level procurement, sourcing, or supply chain project. Their ability to innovate, execute, and deliver under pressure is truly exceptional.

Sincerely,

Charlton Lui
Chief Executive Officer
Canadian Baseball League